

JONES COUNTY OPEN HOUSE SUMMARY

Double Open
Houses

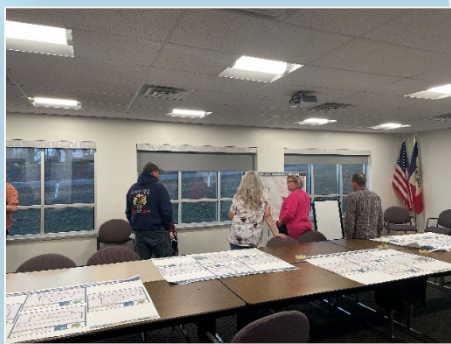

Anamosa Public Library

An informal open house was held to solicit input on the progress to date. Attendees were able to view posters summarizing the county online survey results, and the completed sidewalk assessments. Destination survey forms were also available since responses to the online destination mapping exercise were limited. Four people attended, including a local reporter who published an article about the ATP planning process in the Monticello Express.

Jones County Gala: Wapsipinicon State Park

The Jones County Gala is held annually to update attendees on the economic development activities within the county. A formal presentation provided an overview of the ATP planning progress, with a follow up opportunity for questions. Attendees identified several local stakeholders and submitted several responses to the destination survey. Approximately 30 people attended the event.

Key Takeaways

- Wapsipinicon State Park and Camp Courageous were the two most cited destinations in the county.
- Existing but neglected rail lines could be paved with granular to create alternative connections.
- County road shoulders could be paved.
